M. SCHWARTZ,
EXCHANGE STREET
Has now on hand one of the richest and best assortments of HARD WARE
—AND—CUTLERY GOODS,
that has ever been offered in this city, and having purchased to advantage he is enabled thereby to sell very cheap as usual
Among the articles just received are Carpenter and Mechanics TOOLS selected with the utmost care and with particular reference to the wants of Mechanics in the vicinity House Furnishing Goods, Farming Utensils Varnish, &c &c
He deems it almost unnecessary to say that he continues to manufacture SAWS of every variety—these having already acquired a celebrity for their excellent quality, which renders it needless
In addition to the SAWS manufactured by him he has on hand a large stock of
which for all kinds repaired as usual, and at short notice
He is particularly gratifying to himself that this favorable opportunity to be able to inform his friends and the public of his system of buying for ready pay and selling goods rapidly, even at very small profits, has terminated. By doing so and by strict attention to business, he hopes to merit a continuance of that confidence and patronage with which numerous friends have so kindly favored him since his first commencement of business among them

ROOT PROOF IRON, FOR
ROOFING, WINDOW SHUTTERS, &c
THE subscribers beg to call the attention of all those interested in roofing, to their GALVANIZED TIN PLATES and to the many advantages which they possess over all metals and other substances hitherto used for this purpose possessing as they do, the strength and lightness of iron without its liability to rust having now been tested several years, both in this country and in Europe They are also less subject to expansion and contraction from sudden changes of the atmosphere, than common Tin Plate Iron, Zinc &c, or any other metal now used for roofing and in consequently form a much better and tighter roof, requiring far less frequent repair, while the first cost is but a trifle more
The subscribers would also call the attention of all dealers and workers in metals to the many other purposes to which Iron thus protected, can be applied In general terms it is applicable to all articles of iron which it is desirable to protect from the action of the atmosphere And they would especially call the attention of those interested in TELEGRAPHIC LINES, to their Galvanized Wire, which is now almost entirely used in Europe and which answers every purpose as a conductor of electricity, costing only about one half as much as copper and possessing equal durability with that metal
Having lately erected works in this city for the purpose of galvanizing Nails, Spikes Bolts Wire &c, they will be able to furnish any article which may be desired A supply of Plates (manufactured in Europe) constantly on hand from 16 to 32 wire gauge GEO B MOREWOOD & CO
Nos 14 and 16 Beaver st, New York
The Patent Right for this article has been secured for the United States and Canadas, and all legal measures will be taken to prevent any infringement by importation or otherwise

THE PARLOR MAGAZINE.
J. T. Headley, Editor.
THIS Magazine formerly under the care of Dr Mead commences its Fourth Volume under the editorship of J T Headley author of 'Napoleon and his Marshals,' 'Washington and his Generals,' 'Letters from Italy,' &c &c Well and favorably known as such, the Parlor Magazine is devoted to fill a large place in public estimation, that it will not only maintain its present enviable reputation but learn to look for higher popularity and become the pride and favorite of many a circle to which it is now a welcome and gladdening visitor by its presence, while it exerts an influence pure, elevating and healthful The editor will hold his surgeste to make this the most popular Magazine of the day and while enabling himself to assistance from the best writers he will draw freely from his own exhaustless store
It will continue to maintain its high moral tone and nothing will be admitted into its columns which will minister to the corrupt passions and tendencies of youth, or which the author of himself would wish to blot
The design is to offer to the public a Magazine containing all the attraction and interest of the lighter periodicals while it moves in a different path, and is not exposed to the same objections
It is issued monthly commencing with May containing 32 pages of original matter printed on fine paper in handsome covers with a splendid steel engraving, and colored flower, each number with original music and is got up in every respect in the best style of the art making yearly volume of 384 pages full of choice illustrations, and forming an elegant ornament to the parlor table or a valuable present to a friend
Back numbers and volumes always on hand
Price only $2 per year if in advance 3 copies for $5 8 copies for $12
The Press and the public are daily awarding us the fullest testimonial to the editorial ability of our Magazines, and the beauty and taste with which it is embellished, placing it in the very first rank in every respect among the thousands of which we select the following
Mr Headley's lively and spirited pen is admirably fitted to give a character to a work like this
[New York Evangelist
Under the editorial charge of J T Headley, the most popular writer of the age we predict a still stronger interest will be taken in this already well known and favorable Magazine The name of Headley alone is a sure guarantee of success
Farmer and Mechanic
The new editor has infused that interest and ability into its pages for which his writings are remarkable The work has gained in the power which ever marks the efforts of writers who attempt without losing anything of his fire and to add clean and moral tone

HONEY.
THE subscriber calls expecially upon those having long standing accounts with him to call immediately and settle D BUGBEE 18

THIS is to certify that having been for a long time severely afflicted with an ulcerated tooth the pains and troubles of which most tortured me for months together, lately applied to several eminent Dentists and among them the one upon Main street in Bangor to whom I was particularly recommended, to obtain some relief,—but those as well as Dentists in several other places made efforts to extract the tooth without success, and I was told by them it could not be taken out Latterly my face has been very much swollen and I have suffered exceedingly from its painful effects and wholly disqualified for transacting my health or being relieved of a most painful and dangerous tooth To day I became persuaded to let Dr OSGOOD, a Dentist Doctor of this city make an attempt upon it with a new instrument an invention of his, which he is getting patented and which was said to draw teeth without any danger or pain that is usually attendant upon such operations Although my face was so much swollen that I could scarcely open it have any control over my mouth and although my tooth was so ulcerated it was impossible for any operation to be performed for cutting in the flesh—yet with scarcely any difficulty, and almost without pain, Dr OSGOOD, to my surprise and contrary to the expectations of all my friends, very readily and easily extracted the tooth!
I state these facts in justice to a gentleman who has done for me what all others in his profession failed to do and for the sake of recommending to the public his new instrument which is calculated to achieve much good and improvement for the purposes it is intended

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1847.

WHIG NOMINATION.

FOR GOVERNOR

DAVID BRONSON.

Historical Items---Fort Point and Bucksport.

Fort Point has occupied a prominent place in the history of the Penobscot. Ever since Gov Fowle, with a force of 400 men on board the ship King George the Massachusetts sloop and a few transports, took possession of the country at Fort Point, now a part of Prospect and there erected the best fortification in the whole eastern country. This was called Fort Fowle, cost $5000 and the expenses were paid by Parliament.

A large trade grew up here, with the Indians, a settlement gathered around the fort, business was active, and a brick church was erected, and a minister settled. At the breaking out of hostilities between the colonies and the mother country, Fort Pownal was dismantled by Capt Mowett, commander of a British frigate. The settlers taking the Tory side of the controversy, removed from the county and left the fort and their property. Some of the remains of Fort Pownal are still visible.

The first settlers of Bucksport were from Massachusetts. They suffered many privations and during the revolutionary war, abandoned for a time, their enterprise, on account of annoyances from the enemy, and return to their former homes, but came back again, at the close of the war, when the settlement extended. Some forty years since it was the Queen's village of the East. It had taken the trade formerly transacted at Fort Point, and had no rivals further up the river. Soon it had its "Penobscot Bank" with $150 000 capital. The "Gazette of Maine, the first newspaper published on the river was established at Bucksport in 1814 or 1805. Indeed, at the time now treated of it had the capital, the enterprise, and apparently the natural locality for the great town on the river. The assurances then felt in the certainty of its being the head quarters of trade and population were so great that the first church was built far on one side of the village in expectation that it would soon occupy the centre of the town. Maps were projected and suspended in hotels, showing Bucksport in the centre of a magic circle of business. Thus it was 15 miles to Bangor, 18 miles to Union River, 8 miles to Belfast, 18 in les to Castine and 8 miles to Bluehill. Subsequent facts have proved that the headquarters of trade is at the head of the tide. Bucksport is the most beautiful village on the river. It has a large capital, and is engaged in a profitable navigation in a quiet way.

☞ We feel highly complimented by the remarks of the editor of the Haverhill Gazette, in his review of his exchanges, which of late has occupied a portion of his columns. E. G. Frothingham, Esq., the editor of the Gazette is a Newburyport boy, and was one of our school fellows. His reference to this circumstance, has assembled the school in our middle age. There are many whose names we cannot recall, but many others those who gave character and life to the school, are as distinctly present as ever, in name and person. But they are not school boys now, but at work on life's great stage, or busy in the employments of the spiritual world. Many of the living, a larger number we must think than of any other common public school, have proved men of high intellectual power, and of moral purity. Not a few of them are now popular clergymen, among them John Weat, of Boston. A large number are now, or have been, editors, among them is the grim but fiery minded William L. Garrison. Lawyers and Doctors not a few. Some of them are figures some able merchants, some scientific mechanists, some skillful farmers. Few of them have proved bad men. We should like well to get hold of a biographical list of the whole school roll. Perhaps we may obtain something of the kind, by and by through our old teacher.

This race has led us away from our friend of the Gazette, but we will return, suffice it to say to thank him for his kindness, and to invite him to take his wife and little ones and refresh himself and them by visiting our city and testing the quality of our gooseberries.

Excursion.

The noble steamer Governor will make an excursion to Belfast this afternoon starting at two o'clock. She is to make no landings on the river, but make her passage, and a quick one it will undoubtedly be, direct through to Belfast.

This will afford the company a fine time of several hours for visiting Belfast taking tea with their friends there and returning on a moonlight excursion home. There is to be a large and pleasant party and the Governor has the capacity to carry lots of good people.

☞ The Belfast Journal is in a bad predicament. In view of Gen Taylor being supported by the Whigs, it indirectly, but in fact brings charges against him as being a "slave holder, a "military chieftain a leader of "mercenary hosts." In its hankering to be with the majority, however, it kind o' lovingly casts "sheep's eyes" towards old Rough and Ready, and says "there is strong evidence to prove that he is a Democrat." We shall watch this double game of the sports-loving press, as a capital amusement for this pleasant weather.

☞ SANDS LENT & Co's CIRCUS, is now making a tour in this State as far east as Oldtown.—Their exhibition is spoken of in terms of praise, as being a refined and highly classic affair, without rudeness and without buffoonery. They will exhibit at Orono on Wednesday next August 4 at Oldtown on Thursday, Aug. 5, and in this city on Friday Saturday and Monday Aug 6th 7th and 9th. The Portland Argus thus speaks of the Circus, after its exhibitions in that city—

"Sands Lent & Co's Circus. The best thing of the kind that ever visited Portland. The ponies are a marvel. Their apparent intelligence seems to verge upon [illegible] human reason. We could not help [illegible] the question whether witnessing [illegible] their movements [illegible] the result of [illegible]. The performances of Mr Sands and his children are beautifully classic.

Gen. Taylor's Character.

A barbacue was given on the 10th inst., near Jeffersontown to the Kentucky Volunteers just returned from service in Mexico. After General Pilcher had concluded his complimentary address, Col Humphrey Marshall, responded in a speech from which we make the following extract. It embodies the best, most discriminating sketch of Gen Taylor's character we have ever seen. After reading it none will be surprised that a man possessing such high, rare and admirable traits of character as Gen. Taylor does, should be so honored and loved by all brought into personal relations with him—

My service in Mexico frequently brought me near to Gen Taylor and gave me opportunities to mark the action of the man. Such opportunity was presented. I have no where seen a man, and I don't take the impressions I received from them, are worth. The power of mind which unfortunately in this our day are too much elevated to point of power to sustain by extraordinary and previously hoped object that after rendering on truth Civilization very severe the acknowledgement of the General and dress them off in the finery of metaphor, and I doubt whether the meed will be awarded, or whether he would follow his wishes.

I have seen the portraits of him in books and I have heard it said in print. Some have likened him to Napoleon of ancient fame, and some great in the way others, I have never beheld by mine like the general I now sing. Song will be with the pictures the politicians will execute. He desired to express in the fewest word what manner of man Gen Taylor is. I should say that, in his character and his appearance he is one of the common people of this country. He might be truthfully termed at Marengo to the Emperor and he would not be recognized among this crowd of spectators, old times and present all distinguished from those around him. Perfectly temperate in his habits, perfectly, calm in his cool, entirely unassuming in his manner he appears to be in all conditions in fine health who either has or has not turned upon his personal appearance, and to his mind, or about him to attract particular attention. In battle he requires with more boldness, frank manly, playing if none of the appearances great men whom I have met. He is not fond of display by some brilliant wear to add to a natural figure which commands respect by its unpretending support from [illegible] Same who [illegible] get [illegible] their reputation by a studied gravity which seems to say—*

"I am Sir Oracle
When I open my mouth let no dog bark."

But a close and critical examination of these all ways do covers flaws in the character fa displeasing the person which they pretend to and preserve this appearance by keeping at a distance as they [illegible] Gen Taylor is not of this class of great men. Any one may approach him as nearly as can be desired and the more closely character is examined the greater securities it discloses.

He is no [illegible] man. I do not mean by that merely that he is no [illegible] character. I mean that he is a man who does [illegible] who scorns all deceit. He neither acts [illegible] nor requires [illegible] effect nor assumes to be what he is not. However the speculators may hope to [illegible] schemes and with their [illegible] or wrong you feel assured that he will express his real opinion—his dealings with them have been of a most [illegible] character, and I never have heard his honest fame stained by the breath of the slightest reproach.

He is a man of rare good judgment. He possesses in a high degree that brilliancy of genius which attracts and flashes over the actions of men even while conquering upon it by no means engaging that confidence which penetrates not only the absurdities of men and measures in length and breadth, but by intuition, Gen Taylor has that order of intellect which more slowly but quite as surely in stages, that it engages and examine all the combinations of which the subject is susceptible. When he announces his conclusions, you feel assured that he plants himself upon the ground upon which he plants himself and you rest assured that the principles are the deduction of skill and sound sense, faithfully applied to the matter in hand.

It is this order of mind and which has enabled him, unlike many other officers of the army to attend to the wants of his army by sending the impression that special as to some individual he is the agent to whom he is to look for supplies and he will be rewarded by the government. Such has been Gen Taylor's conduct. He has never visited his quarters without seeing evidences of the industry with which he toiled. If his intended adjutant was superseded by paper, so was the general. And though he salute a visitor kindly, and light him with familiar grace to amuse himself until he was at leisure, he would never interrupt the duties which his station called him to perform. When these were closed for the day, he seemed to enjoy in a remarkable degree the vivacity of young officers and to yield to mingle in their society. As a conversationalist, I do not think Gen Taylor possesses great power. He uses few words, and expresses himself with energy and force, but not fluently. His language is select. I would say, however, from the knowledge of the man, that it was entirely capable of producing anything in the shape of an order or letter, which had ever appeared over his signature. In saying so much, I only extend my sentiments in asserting that he is master of his subject, and can with ease and readily and [illegible] hands [illegible] he can fight.

Such is the picture of the man—not of the [illegible] who won upon my esteem and [illegible] Creek, my gunmen, and drove me [illegible] succession because I deserted to describe [illegible] with the exactness of truth those qualities which, combined in Gen Taylor, made him appear to me as a first rate model of a true American character. I here dwell upon the chivalry he has so often developed, and his great success compulsorily illustrated upon the field of battle, I formed my ideas of the man when he was free from duty and had no motive to appear in any other light than such as was thrown upon him by nature, education, and principles.

Death of Joseph E. Neal.

This able and accomplished writer died at Philadelphia on the 17th, of congestion of the brain—He was the author of the deliberated "Charcoal Sketches." For four years past he had been the editor of "Neal's Saturday Gazette," which he has conducted with signal ability. The country has lost an able and talented writer, and one that will long be regretted. He was a native of New Hampshire.

☞ The Belfast Signal cautions the public to beware of counterfeit 10's on the Thomaston Bank, having a spread eagle on the top of the bill signed R. Robinson, Pres't. The genuine of the true 10's is a hooner under sail a steamboat under sail &c and signed Richard Robinson.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer says that Mr Trist was authorized to pay the three millions of dollars to Mexico as soon as the treaty of peace was satisfactorily that government and was not waiting for its ratification by the Senate.

☞ The editor of the Augusta Age is in danger of being tried by the ancient fire ordeal for speaking of the Bunker Hill Antiquarian Society as one of the most brilliant and unique pieces of the present era. A society that could at one leap outwo hundred and fifty times its own length, is not to be lightly spoken of.

☞ We should be highly gratified to have our correspondent at Lagrange at length to inform the historical facts of his location by Wyeshall endeavor to find by following up the mysteries to which he refers and spring them [illegible] to our own, if not to his entire satisfaction.

☞ Our correspondent, "A Citizen," writes upon grave matters, and we desire an interview with him, or her, that the responsibility of the article, since many of the matters to which he refers have not fallen under our notice. We are disposed to and hope the ends of which he makes mention.

☞ Our readers will find in our columns to day a fine sketch of Gen Taylor, and if they do not find in him a candidate to vote for, they cannot fail to find a man to admire.

☞ The Locos of the Ninth Senatorial District (Aroostook) on the 15th nominated M. B. Townsend as the candidate for Senator.

Legislature of Maine.

Tuesday, July 27

In the Senate—

Referred to next Legislature. Bill to incorporate the Skowhegan Rail Road Company.

The committees on the part of the Senate, on the plurality system, reported that, after two conferences with the committee on the part of the House, the conferees were unable to agree, and the committee on the part of the Senate recommend that the Senate insist on its former vote.

The question was on acceptance of the report of the committee which was [illegible] the following vote—Yeas [illegible]

Mr Baker moved to recede and concur with the House, in passing the bill to be engrossed. The Senate refused to recede by the following vote not being two thirds—Yeas 18—Nays—12.

Mr Perry of Oxford called up the bill to incorporate the Lake Heron Dam Company, and the same was indefinitely postponed.

Caleb R. Ayer was chosen President pro tem.

Passed and engrossed—Bills in relation to lands reserved for public uses, redeeming real estate, et claims on the city of Portland.

Finally passed—bills authorizing county commissioners of Washington county to lay out a road over Cobscook river; additional reserving exceptions to the acts in relation to the salary of Judge and Register of Probate for Franklin county to change the names of certain persons upon the Penobscot and Lake Poquoy Company; resolves in favor of Fish River road, for the purchase of additional number of copies of Williamson's History of Maine, for improving the road leading to the Penobscot Narrows.

Mr Lowell of Kennebec called up the bill incorporating the Franklin and Kennebec Rail Road Company, and the same passed to be engrossed.

In the House—

The question on reconsidering the vote to indefinitely postpone the [illegible] bill was discussed by Messrs Hamlin and Mr Goodwin in favor and Messrs Chadwick and Appleton in the negative. The motion was negatived, yeas 52, nays 78.

Bill in relation to lands reserved for public uses and providing for the redemption of the same by the young men of this city [illegible] that a separate [illegible] gather and [illegible] because they know that they are as well come as though they visited the heath-bound [illegible] their own home, and they are always as freely invited to partake [illegible] the hospitalities as if they were under the roof of a father. His conduct in sparing the deserters who were captured at Buena Vista exhibited at the same time a remarkable manner his benevolence and his judgment. Upon these grounds, said he, the worst punishment I will inflict is to return them to the Army of Mexico. When [illegible] said to one of his staff, "Insert [illegible] their flags." No page of the army of Italy, he said, exhibited a [illegible] which was [illegible] so remarkable that history [illegible] it for the admiration of future ages, yet it was not more [illegible] as an illustration of his power in touching the springs of human action than is that of Gen Taylor, illustrative of the manner in which he would make an example [illegible] benefit of the army.

[illegible] business has [illegible] never have known Gen Taylor to give up a duty to pleasure. I have never visited his quarters without seeing evidences of the industry with which he toiled. If his intended adjutant was superseded by paper, so was the general. And though he salute a visitor kindly, and light him with familiar grace to amuse himself until he was at leisure, he would never interrupt the duties which his station called him to perform. When these were closed for the day, he seemed to enjoy in a remarkable degree the vivacity of young officers and to yield to mingle in their society. As a conversationalist, I do not think Gen Taylor possesses great power. He uses few words, and expresses himself with energy and force, but not fluently. His language is select. I would say, however, from the knowledge of the man, that it was entirely capable of producing anything in the shape of an order or letter, which had ever appeared over his signature. In saying so much, I only extend my sentiments in asserting that he is master of his subject, and can with ease and readily and [illegible] hands [illegible] he can fight.

Such is the picture of the man—not of the [illegible] who won upon my esteem and [illegible] Creek, my gunmen, and drove me [illegible] succession because I deserted to describe [illegible] with the exactness of truth those qualities which, combined in Gen Taylor, made the highest duty of the American people to confide the administration of their government, at the earliest opportunity, to that citizen whose [illegible] hand in his own [illegible] and whose avowed opinions prove public service and whose avowed opinions prove him to be the most noble and the most ready to re-establish peace with Mexico.

Mr Kennedy of Waldoboro' moved to amend the amendment by adding the following,

And that we express ourselves to elevate General Zachary Taylor to the next Presidency, as the best means of accomplishing the result.

This last resolve was rejected, only 18 voting for it.

Mr Pennell's amendment was then rejected, 36 to 70.

Mr Thomas of Thomaston, offered the following as an amendment—

Resolved, That the services rendered by Gen Zachary Taylor to his country from nearly the period of his birth to the present day—the unerring sagacity, the moderation and humanity which he has always displayed amidst the conflicts of war, and especially in the capitulation of Monterey, the skill, firmness and irresistible will which have distinguished his conduct through out the Mexican war, on the fields of Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma, Monterey, and Buena Vista, entitle him to the warm and grateful confidence of the nation, and entitle him to the lasting gratitude of the American people.

Mr Hooper of Pembroke, moved to substitute instead of the foregoing the following—

Resolved, That Gen Taylor, by his wise forecast, his untiring vigilance, his love of patriotism, his cool and determined valor, and his indomitable energy in the hour of conflict, has won the admiration of a grateful country, and acquired an imperishable renown.

Mr Thomas moved the substitute.

Mr Hamlin of Hampden, moved to amend the amendment by adding the following—"and preserving a war just upon the part of our own government and to cede upon us by the act of Mexico."

Mr Thomas in order to avoid this amendment to the amendment, withdrew the substitute and the following original resolution.

Mr Hamlin moved his amendment to that but subsequently withdrew, although Mr Foster of Penobscot, then moved the same amendment as Mr Hamlin's amendment, at one—and that it be substituted for Mr Thomas's.

A discussion here arose about points of order and precedents, more interesting at that place than it would be to the reader, in the midst of which the House adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

Mr Thomas offered to withdraw his amendment, but the Speaker decided that it could not be withdrawn, without the consent of the House, an adjournment having intervened. On this decision an appeal arose, Mr Fairbanks appealed from the decision of the Speaker—Messrs Williams, Jarvis, Otis and Seamon, spoke against the decision and Mr Hamlin in favor. The decision of the Speaker was sustained, 61 to 57.

Mr Otis of Hallowell, called for a division of the question, so as to take the first on striking out. The question was then taken and the amendment of Mr Thomas struck out—yeas 62 nays 53.

The vote was then taken on inserting Mr Foster's amendment as modified by the addition of Mr Hamlin's amendment, and decided in the negative, 35 to 81.

Mr Foster then moved to amend by adding a resolution amending Constitution—(the same as that voted upon by the Senate.)

Mr Hamlin moved the same amendment as to the amendment offered by Mr Thomas.

Mr Thomas rose to speak but the Speaker decided that under the previous question passed in the forenoon debate was not in order.

Mr Thomas appealed from the decision, but it was sustained, and not with its usual approval of the public. His plan, however, is seldom adopted owing to the specious assertions of unknown quacks, who are blustering assert that one pill from far medicine will cure every disease that flesh is heir to, from the tooth ache to the gout. These wicked fabricators are read by a majority of the people, who swallow the bait, the result of which is the physicians first standard then half [illegible] quack opened another rogue's fortune is made quod erat demonstrandum est. How much better it would be if people would inquire into the merits of a particular medicine before purchasing. It would remove all doubts, and secure the purchaser from imposition. We make the above remarks to introduce to our readers Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha's preparation of Stand on merit for the relief of consumption, asthmatic affections and diseases of the lungs and throat. This medicine we have used with the most triumphant results, and many cases of affection of the lungs have come under our notice which were speedily cured by a few bottles of Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha. Be particular and get the genuine. It is prepared only by Agney & Dickson at the N. E. corner of Fifth and Spruce streets.

BY THE LAST MAIL.

Late from Mexico.

The New Orleans Picayune of the 20th, contains a letter from Lieut Barbour dated Mexico, June 29th. This gentleman was taken prisoner in February last while advancing with an escort to rescue a train which had been cut in pieces and the men butchering to which he supposed to be murdered.

Lieut Barbour states that the provision for the exchange of Maj Gaines and others, was not extended to himself, nor to Quarter master Smith, and Midshipman Rogers, and that Santa Anna has no idea of releasing any of them, but wishes to send them all to Alapulco, on the Pacific.

By letters received per the Mary Kingsland from Brazos, to the 15th it is rumored that Gen Urrea, is about to attack Reynosa with three thousand troops.

Preparations for defence were making, and several detachments had been seen near the river, and the object of Urrea was believed to be an attack upon the cattle and wagon trains between Camargo and Monterey.

These rumors about Urrea are not confirmed by the Matamoros Flag of the 10, but that journal has similar accounts relative to the Carrizal gang of desperadoes.

The Mexicans and others discovered near Brazos, were taken prisoners or dispersed and a rancho they frequented burnt to the ground.

The twelfth regiment from New York and New Jersey are quartered at Matamoros, where they will remain until relieved, which will be several weeks, perhaps.

☞ The St. Louis Republican states that letters have been received in that city from Chihuahua, dated one ten days after the departure of Col Doniphan's column and from that city. They were brought by Mr Webb, who returned by way of El Paso and Santa Fe. All along the route between Chihuahua and Santa Fe he was assured to pass without molestation from the citizens.

☞ Capt Montgomery, of British brig Rover, at Wilmington, N. C. from New York from Portland, reports that on the 2d inst, lat 43 40, lon 47 the saw a ship to the windward of him on fire, but could not ascertain her name.

☞ There is believed to be no truth in the rumor that the Mormons were about to revolt in California.

Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha.—It seems common sense to suggest that he who will have good compounded for the removal of his illness. This may be done either by ordering a prescription from a regular physician, who has studied and been long tested, and met with the approval of the public. His plan, however, is seldom adopted owing to the specious assertions of unknown quacks, who are blustering, assert that one pill from far medicine will cure every disease that flesh is heir to, from the tooth ache to the gout. These wicked fabricators are read by a majority of the people, who swallow the bait, the result of which is the physicians first standard then half [illegible] quack opened another rogue's fortune is made quod erat demonstrandum est. How much better it would be if people would inquire into the merits of a particular medicine before purchasing. It would remove all doubts, and secure the purchaser from imposition. We make the above remarks to introduce to our readers Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha's preparation of Stand on merit for the relief of consumption, asthmatic affections and diseases of the lungs and throat. This medicine we have used with the most triumphant results, and many cases of affection of the lungs have come under our notice which were speedily cured by a few bottles of Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha. Be particular and get the genuine. It is prepared only by Agney & Dickson at the N. E. corner of Fifth and Spruce streets.

Dr. Townsend's SARSAPARILLA,

The Most Extraordinary Medicine of the Age!

This extract is put up in quart bottles, is cheaper, pleasanter, and more effectual than all other Blood Purifiers at present in use. It cures in a shorter time, more perfectly, and with less change in diet, than any other medicine. It is the great beauty and superiority of this over all other preparations of the kind, that it invigorates the body. It does not require that the patient should confine himself to a spare diet, but it creates new, pure and rich blood, and gives strength and health to the whole system. Sores and humors of the most malignant character, Scrofula in all its forms, Erysipelas, Pimples on the face, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Pain in the Side, Back and Bones, Female Complaints, Gravel, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood or a disordered state of the stomach, such as Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Biliousness, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, and all diseases that require a cathartic or purifying medicine, this Sarsaparilla will be found the best that can be obtained. In fact, as a Spring medicine, it will more than realize the expectations of the most sanguine.

For further particulars, certificates of remarkable cures, &c., see pamphlets, which can be had gratis of the agents.

Prepared by Dr. TOWNSEND and Sons, Apothecaries, 100 Fulton street, New York.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Dr. Townsend's
SARSAPARILLA
He Most Extraordinary Medicine

This extract is put up in quart bottles, and is the pleasantest and most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla ever offered to the public. It cures dangerous diseases without leaving the system in a debilitated state, as all other preparations of Sarsaparilla do. It is the only true and reliable purifier of the blood ever discovered, as it entirely removes from the system all impurities, and leaves the blood pure, healthy and vigorous. It invigorates the body, restores the lost appetite, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It is the only known remedy that can be relied on for the cure of Scrofula, or King's Evil. It is the only known remedy that can be relied on for the cure of Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Ulcers, Sore Eyes, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Female Complaints, Jaundice, Dropsy, Gravel, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Piles, Fistula, Dysentery, Diseases of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Female Obstructions, Pain in the Side, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dizziness, Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Female Weakness, Nervous Irritability, Sleeplessness, Low Spirits, Hysterics, Blues, Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Typhus Fever, Scarlet Fever, Yellow Fever, Influenza, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Hoarseness, Croup, Pain in the Breast, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Pain in the Side, Pain in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Inflammation of the Bladder, Stone in the Bladder, Disease of the Urethra, Stricture, Dysentery, Bloody Flux, Piles, Inflammation of the Bowels, Worms, Colic, Spasms, Nervousness, Nervous Irritability, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Dizziness, Neuralgia, Tic Doloreux, Epilepsy or Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Paralysis or Palsy, Numbness, Drowsiness, Coldness of the Limbs, Involuntary Discharges, Sleeplessness, Despondency, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Low Spirits, Blues, Derangement of the Nervous System, Epilepsy or Fits, Nervous Irritability, Hysterics, Pain in the Head, Sick Headache, Nervous Headache, Dizziness, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Low Spirits, Blues, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Hysterics, Female Weakness, Female Obstructions, Pain in the Side, Pain in the Back, Female Complaints, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Low Spirits, Blues, Nervous Irritability

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S CONCENTRATED Sherry-Wine Bitters.

THE Proprietor of this medicine offers to the public the result of an expensive practice and the high investigation of the laws which govern the human system

It cannot be denied by those who have become acquainted with the singular virtues of these Bitters that they possess a pre eminence over all others now in use for the diseases which they profess to cure

It is a well known fact that most diseases arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, producing Nervousness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Jaundice, Pain in the Side, Back and Limbs, Female Weakness, Piles, Fevers, Inflammatory Humors, Coughs and a host of diseases which embitter life and poison all sources of enjoyment

The distinguished character of these Bitters as a tonic, their operation being more or less powerful according to the violence of the disease When used to appropriate quantity, in cases of debility, they create a healthy appetite, cleanse the Stomach and Bowels, and by their general influence on the nervous system, restore a state of health and renewed vigor

Persons who are afflicted with any of the Doctors Diseases, should call at the Doctors Office, 10 Hanover Street, Boston
